This festival truly sees the fruits of our labour over the last few years. Our growing partnerships, and relocation to the Drill House, has enabled SeaChange to support artists and produce work in a way, and to a scale, not seen in the past.

Out There 2013 sees some exciting recently developed work from 16 companies which have, in part, been created with SeaChange's support. Alongside new commissions, like the ambitious Looking For Paradise, companies including Tilted Productions and Magmanus have been supported in producing new work. Lost in Translation Circus created their new show La Ballade de Bergerac at the Drill House, part of an exciting 12 month residency, supported by the PASS Cross Channel Circus Arts Alliance, which has also seen them lead our regular Drillaz Circus School and work with other artists as part of our growing professional development programme.

The vision for the Drill House is as a vibrant international centre for circus and street arts, something almost unique here in the UK. The Drill House will be at the centre of a 'circus quarter', taking in St. George's Park at festival time, St. George's Theatre and the Hippodrome, which celebrates 110 years of circus history this year.

Indoor work marks a significant strand of this year's festival. At the Hippodrome, The Big Bang Factory promises mayhem and laughter, as artists from the UK and students from Amiens' Cirque Jules Verne provide their own unique interpretation on the story of creation. St. George's Theatre makes its festival debut, hosting a trio of companies' new work and the first shows in a SeaChange and Battersea Arts Centre programme of groundbreaking theatre, Unwrapped.

Our cross-channel partnerships go from strength to strength. In a continuation of our ZEPA project, ZEPA2 provides a new touring strand; La Fête Française, bringing work to new audiences and showcasing UK and French artists. The tour has visited Holt, Thetford and Gorleston and forms a major part of Out There this year.

We're once again indebted to all our partners and supporters, to some of the world's most exciting artists, and to our ever-growing festival audiences. We look forward to getting Out There and enjoying it with you all!

SeaChange & The Drill House

BRINGING THE INTERNATIONAL TO GREAT YARMOUTH

SeaChange are an independent arts development charity, dedicated to delivering outstanding Circus and Street Arts. Working as the arts development and promotion agency for Great Yarmouth Borough Council, we have brought a new lease of life to the town's historic Drill House as an international creation centre and community hub. Circus and street arts companies from across Europe work here alongside all kinds of people from Great Yarmouth.

Over the last 12 months, we've welcomed 10 companies from across Europe to work at the Drill House and develop their new shows. While here, they work closely with the local community and artists to share their skills and expertise.

We've become home from home for international circus company Lost in Translation who are living and working here in a 12 month residency under our PASS Emerge scheme. They have developed their new show, La Ballade de Bergerac (page 11) here and lead Drillaz, our own circus school, offering opportunities for young people from 8 to 18 years, to learn from international artists.

Drillaz is one part of a burgeoning programme of circus related activities. Around 80 young people attend the Drill House each week for the circus school and our Parkour and Urban Fuse programmes, all of which are completely free to attend.

Added to that are a diverse programme of other creative activities, from media skills to music, and a lively participation programme around the borough where we work with schools, older people and a variety of community groups. All of which contribute to a growing year round cultural offering for Great Yarmouth and the regions liveliest, most diverse festival of circus and street arts... Out There.

If you would like to get involved in activities at the Drill House or are a professional company seeking to develop your work, we'd love to hear from you.

BUT WHERE DID I LEAVE THE KEYS?

ON THE BEDSIDE TABLE? IN THE GARAGE?

OR JUST IN THE POCKET OF MY JACKET?

Delinus 03

THERE'S ONLY ONE THING YOU CAN BE SURE OF:

"THERE'S ALWAYS ROOM FOR ONE MORE!"

Delinus (NL)

Delinus 03 - the smallest taxi-van ever! Tickets are available from the charming conductor but the tiny van doesn't have a fixed timetable. Hop on or hop off, nobody knows when the taxi-van will depart, how long it will last or which route the driver will take...

This wondrous market is run by the crude Bacul family who sell their morbid and insane merchandise using the most outrageous of techniques.

How to get Out There!

CAR: Car parks close to the festival park: Market Gates multi-storey NR30 2BQ, Palmers Car Park, NR30 1LN, St Nicholas Car Park, NR30 3JP, King Street Car Park, NR30 2PS. Please check opening times.

TRAIN: Greater Anglia run regular services from Norwich to Great Yarmouth www.greateranglia.co.uk. From the station, the town centre is clearly signposted. St. George's Park is just south of the Market Place.

BUS: First Eastern Counties X1 service from Lowestoft and Norwich run regularly on Saturdays and Sundays (www.firstgroup.com)
Anglian Buses run regular services on Saturday from Norwich and east coast areas (www.anglianbus.co.uk). All buses arrive at Market Gates, a few minutes north of St George's Park.

Give us a quid!

... or two! Out There continues to grow and the majority of events are free. To help us keep things that way and continue the development of Out There and our community programme, you can help!

If everyone visiting the festival donates £1, it could raise more than £50,000. We can use that money as match funding with many of our supporters, potentially doubling the value.

So, if you like what you see... and what we do, please spare £1 (or even a bit more!). There are volunteers and donation bins located around the festival park.

Thank you,
The Out There Team
